DevOps Engineer – SRE

With several years of experience in back-end and full-stack development, I have built strong expertise in designing reliable, scalable, and production-ready systems. Specialized in AWS environments, I focus on deployment automation, platform reliability, and the industrialization of delivery workflows through CI/CD practices. My dual expertise enables me to combine a strong product mindset with deep technical mastery of critical tools and architectures, including Terraform, Ansible, Docker, observability solutions such as Datadog and Prometheus, and API architectures built with REST, GraphQL, Symfony, and Node.js
